

ASIS International Seminar Speaker's Agreement:

ASIS International does not permit sales pitches or equipment demonstrations during educational sessions. If your session is product/service oriented, ASIS expects that the presentation focus on the technology being used in the field and NOT in a single product or service that your organization can or does provide. All demonstrations should take place on the exhibit floor or in a private room by official exhibitors only. No presentation shall contain merchandising material for a product or service. Promotional materials may not be distributed to attendees before or after the presentation.

Media is expected at all ASIS International events. If you are not comfortable with media covering your session(s) then you will need to send written notice to kgraham@asisonline.org after your presentation is accepted.

Speaker Agreement:

All presentations offered at ASIS International events are made with the understanding that there will be a complete explanation of material presented for each abstract submitted. During the presentation, there must be no refusal to respond to audience inquiries regarding item(s) under presentation.

An educational session is not an opportunity to promote or demonstrate company products or merchandise. No presentation shall contain merchandising material for a product or service, nor will promotional materials be distributed to attendees before or after the presentation.

ASIS International does not pay per diem, honoraria, or expenses. However, your registration fee for the day of your presentation is waived.

Individuals submitting an abstract for a ASIS International conference are doing so with the understanding that they agree to abide by these conditions, deadline policies, and decisions of the ASIS International program committee.

Presenters agree to allow ASIS to audiotape, videotape, and/or transcribe the presentation. Presenters also release all rights to the duplication and distribution of tapes and transcribed material for publication in conjunction with the ASIS International conference, and share copyrights with ASIS for distribution of information in the conference related materials and activities.

Speaker invited to make presentations at an ASIS International conference agree that:

1. All presentations will reflect the accepted abstract.
2. Handouts must be received by deadline assigned to that conference.
3. Visual aides used during the presentation need to be developed so that they can easily be viewed in a large room.
4. Sessions may be recorded and transcribed.
5. Content and examples will be considerate of the cultural diversity of the audience.
