

ASIS proudly congratulates the thousands of professionals who have sought and attained the CPP—the profession's highest recognition.

Continuous and Never-Ending Improvement

Loren Kajitani, CPP

Deputy Chief of Security
California Institute of Technology
Pasadena, CA

Industry: University Campus Security

Job Responsibility: Direct security field operations, liaison with campus community, training, strategic development.

Education: BA and BS

Years in Security: 20+      Year Earned CPP: 1998      Year Joined ASIS: 1993

Why I Pursued the CPP: "After many years in the industry, I wanted to obtain the designation that showed that I had achieved the highest professional level possible. I also want to set an example for women in the security industry."

How the CPP Benefits Me: "It opens up opportunities for professional growth and enhances my ability to accomplish security projects. The designation allows me to interface with top levels of management in many kinds of work environments. It gives me a respected framework for "giving back" to my colleagues and associates."

Why Security Professionals Pursue the CPP Designation: "Because they want to be the best. They want to earn more and learn more, be of higher profile, expand their competence, and dedicate themselves to continued improvement."

Achievements: Loren currently serves as Region III ARVP/ CPP for the third straight year. She previously served on the Board of the Greater Los Angeles Chapter in various committee and Executive Board positions, including Chair. She assists in planning the annual CPP event consisting of a full day of seminars and an evening awards banquet which honors CPPs throughout the region. Loren is a proactive member of the local CPP Review Course Planning Committee and student mentor. She wrote an article for the September 2001 issue of Dynamics delineating guidelines for others interested in creating their own CPP review courses. Loren is a member of the Association of Threat Assessment Professionals (ATAP), California Crime Prevention Officers Association (CCPOA), and California CPTED Association (CCA).
