

CPP PROFILE

ASIS proudly congratulates the thousands of professionals who have sought and attained the CPP—the profession's highest recognition.

The CPP designation is a credential well earned and worth having!

Michael A. Webster, CPP
President, CEO
Secure Concepts International
Dallas, Texas

Industry: Security Consulting, Architecture & Engineering

Job Responsibility: Manager and principal consultant for an international security consulting firm.

Education: Criminal Justice, Industrial Security, and Security Management.

Years in Security: 18 Year Earned CPP: 1996 Year Joined ASIS: 1994

Why I Pursued the CPP: "Earning the CPP demonstrates to my clients, peers, and associates my developed knowledge and skills as a security management practitioner."

How the CPP Benefits Me: "The CPP provides me recognition of my career efforts, and the recertification requirements compel me to stay current on the latest security technology and practices. This current knowledge is a valued resource."

Value of the CPP: "I associate regularly with registered architects, engineers, and other design and construction professionals who possess and value their own industry certifications and credentials. As a CPP, I am immediately recognized and accepted as an expert in security management practices and asset protection strategies."

Why Security Professionals Pursue the CPP Designation: "The CPP designation distinguishes the holder as a leader and expert within the security industry and is recognized as an accurate measure of one's superior knowledge of security management practices and asset protection strategies."

Achievements: Mr. Webster currently serves as the Chairman of the Committee on "The Infrastructure Security Partnership" for the International Association of Professional Security Consultants and recently has presented several CPP Review Courses for the North Texas ASIS Chapter. As a highly-published author on security-related subjects, he serves as a frequent source for the media during security emergency or terrorism incidents.
