

Biography

H. Lee Neutzling, PSP

Corporate Security & LP Manager
Diebold Nixdorf Incorporated

For the last eight years, Mr. Neutzling has worked as a security practitioner designing and implementing physical protection systems. He has served as a physical security specialist, corporate security manager, and currently serves as the corporate security and loss prevention manager. Lee is responsible for the physical security program which includes the physical protection system, security guard force management, and executive protection, as well as manages the loss prevention program. He also serves as an Ohio State Highway Patrol (OSHP) Auxiliary Officer and in the fall of 2008, graduated from the FBI's Citizen Academy (FBICA) which teaches community leaders more about the FBI and how the private sector can work with the FBI to help fight crime.

Mr. Neutzling conducts public speaking engagements on behalf of the BFICA to help educate parents and students of the risks of social media and online security. His experience includes security guard force management, conduct security assessments and audits, physical security penetration tests, and conducting investigations and interviews.